

World Book Day is on Thursday.

On Thursday, we will be asking people in class to share their favourite book. Start to have a think about your own favourite book and what you might say. It can be any book, but not a magazine. Don't worry if you don't have an actual copy of the book, because you can just tell us about it in your own words on Thursday and maybe why it is special to you or why you like it so much.
