Jousting Match

Yesterday, we looked at writing one paragraph to describe one part of a match. Today, we are going to describe the full match.

Sir Taylor heaved hard on the reins with his sweaty hands - the tension had made him extremely anxious. His muscular horse reared high onto its back legs. A shrill whinny filled the air, echoing around the arena. The hairs on the back of Sir Hazlewood's neck were stood on end, yet his peering eyes showed no fear. One final glance at his King and then he was off. The galloping stallion consumed the track within seconds. Sand flew high into the air as the two knights became closer. Within a blink of an eye, they had reached the centre. Both men poised their lances towards their opponent. Smash! Thin shards of wood splintered through the air. The crowd held its breath. For a moment everything seemed to happen in slow motion. As the plume of dust began to settle, it became clear that Sir Taylor had been hit; he clutched his arm whilst still grasping his pristine lance (he had missed his target).

Then describe the next run.
