

Globes

Globes are models of the earth. They show the true shape and size of the continents.

