

4th February 2021

I can describe malaria in Uganda.

To include a range of adjectives.

To use a variety of sentence structures.

To have accurate punctuation.

Rhetorical questions.

Mosquitoes

The people of Uganda face horrific conditions daily, many simply battling to stay alive. One major issue is malaria - a deadly disease if not treated quickly. The statistics surrounding malaria are shocking: in 2015, 438 000 people died globally, with a staggering 306 000 of these deaths being children under five years old. This needs to change. We need your help. Many innocent Ugandans catch the dreadful disease through avoidable means; often just from drinking water. Unfortunately, mosquitos infect water

Detective time

Look at your work:

- 1) Adjectives
- 2) Sentence Structures
- 3) Accurate punctuation

