

START		When were wolves first used as dogs?		How are wolves like people?		Why is the information written in boxes?		Why are the first words in each box written in bold?
	Werewolves Fact of fiction? Some people think werewolves are people who change into wolves. ‘Wer’ is an old Saxon word for man, so werewolf means manwolf. If a werewolf bites someone it is believed that person becomes a werewolf too. Werewolves are supposed to change into wolves when there is a full moon, or by using magic. Werewolves appear in lots of stories. One of the most recent is Harry Potter and the Prisoner of Azkaban. Werewolves are said to attack and kill people.				Wolves and Werewolves Many people are afraid of wolves but love dogs. Did you know the wolf is a wild dog? It is thought that wolves were domesticated as dogs towards the end of the Ice Age. Wolves like to live in a family and look after each other – just like people!
Why might a wolf leave the pack to become a lone wolf?					Wolf noises Wolves bark, yelp, growl, snarl and whimper, but their most well-known sound is their howl. Each wolf has a unique howl, which means wolves know if one of their pack is howling. Howls can be heard from a long way away so wolves can communicate with their pack easily.			When can a wolf pup be born?
	Wolf pups Wolf pups are born between April and June and are cared for in a den. They love to howl. By autumn, a pup can travel long distances.				Endangered Wolves have been killed because they steal animals and because people are afraid of them. Numbers have also fallen because their habitat is being taken by people.
Give two reasons why howling is important to wolves.	Wolf packs Wolves live in packs. There are usually between four and seven wolves in a pack. The leader is the strongest male. Most wolves in the pack are related to each other. Sometimes wolves leave their pack to become lone wolves.				Wolf facts and figures A grey wolf is the largest wild dog. It can weigh up to 80kg. 			What does the word ‘werewolf’ mean?
	Do you think the writer thinks werewolves are real?		To what length can a grey wolf grow?		Give two reasons why people kill wolves.		Give two reasons why people might be afraid of werewolves.	