Hi Everyone,

It was lovely speaking to you all this week and finding out about the fun things you were doing.

Just thought I'd check in and see how you're going on with the activities I set. Hopefully, you've now found out about Greek Quest Myths and looked at examples of this. This will have given you ideas for your hero/heroine and mythical creature and I hope you have had fun drawing and describing them. I would love to see some of your ideas so please post some of your work to our twitter page. I am sure that a lot of you will have already started writing your quest myth. Set yourself a target of writing at least a paragraph a day. You could illustrate each paragraph to make it like a proper book. Again, please post some of your work so that I can see what you are doing.

In science, we would have been looking at plants this half term. Take advantage of the nice weather and go out into your garden and sketch some detailed drawings of the plants and flowers and then label them. Do you know the name of the flower? For some fun replanting ideas to see how some of the foods you eat can be regrown visit

Post and share pictures of anything you manage to grow.

Take care and stay safe.
